2008 Lighthouse Sauvignon Blanc

Cases produced: 24

Price per bottle: $17

The 2008 Lighthouse Sauvignon Blanc is a 100% Sauvignon Blanc sourced from the Destiny Ridge Vineyard in Horse Heaven Hills. The fruit was picked Labor Day weekend, at the beginning of full ripening, to retain the crisp grapefruit and citrus notes. The wine underwent 12 months of barrel aging in 30% new American oak, in order to impart a subtle oak character and smooth out the new tannins. The resulting wine is a forward expression of the fruit, which makes it a perfect food pairing wine.

2006 Cabernet Sauvignon Blend

Price per bottle: $22

The 2006 Cabernet Sauvignon Blend is a blend of fruit from Gilbert Vineyards and Kestrel Vineyards in Prosser, WA. The slightly cooler climate at the Kestrel Vineyards allows the grapes to retain their fresh fruit character, and at the same time provides for a longer hang time to obtain full ripeness and depth. The fruit from Gilbert Vineyards experiences full heat to ripen the fruit, and provides the fruit forward quality of the wine. After 18 months of barrel aging in 30% new French oak and 70% neutral American oak, the wine has a forward nose of dried cherry and cranberry, with cedar overtones braided with eucalyptus. A mouthful of fruit, raspberry, cherry, and fig follow the nose with subtle nuances and do not overpower food with which it is paired. The finish is smooth, with lingering hints of semi-sweet chocolate. The wine is ready to drink young, but will age well over the next 3-5 years.
